Love is in the air...

Valentine's Day is perfect for marriage proposals and couples can get on their marks as Scotland's biggest wedding event returns. It is back at the SEC in Glasgow this Saturday and Sunday for the first time since 2020 after being forced to take a break due to the Covid-19 pandemic. The event, which has been running in the city since 2002, brings together top wedding suppliers under one roof and is the place to be for brides and grooms who are planning their big day
